

APCA Board of Directors

Annual Award Descriptions

There are six annual APCA Board Awards conferred each year during the Annual Meeting.

These awards are designed to recognize the outstanding contributions and support given by anyone (individuals, groups, and organizations), whose actions have furthered the mission of Alaskan FQHCs.

Nominations for candidacy are accepted from anyone (self-nominations are accepted), and solicitations for nominations are made to APCA members, stakeholders, and the general public. APCA Board receives the nominations and votes to determine the final awardees.

Chinook

This is APCA's highest honor, with recipients selected based on their outstanding overall contribution to the continuation of accessible and affordable health care for all Alaskans

Coho

Recognizes contributions to the realm of Policy and Advocacy

Sockeye

Awarded for contributions to the field of Health Workforce Development

Steelhead

Commemorates exceptional contributions toward Emerging Health Issues

Rainbow

Conferred for contributions in the sphere of Social Determinants

Tom Taylor Emerging Leader Memorial Award

This award seeks to acknowledge the contributions of, and encourage the continued engagement of, future leaders in ongoing conversations and actions supporting the goal of accessible and affordable health care for all Alaskans. The key qualities of leadership highlighted by this award are commitment, motivation, achievement, aspiration, teamwork, cultural competence, and social intelligence used together to further the safety net mission.
